

Transit Planner

Salary: $ 4,716 to $6,600 per month
(Employer Paid Benefits & Retirement)

Gold Coast Transit (GCT) seeks a professional transit or transportation planner to perform technical analysis of transit services, planning and scheduling for existing and new transit services, route productivity analysis, development of operator assignments, coordinate public participation process related to service changes, conduct public meetings with citizens, interact with bus operators, transit supervisors and other agency staff to receive and give feedback on various service issues. Other tasks for this multi-faceted position will include coordination with local municipal transportation staff and project developers to review new residential and commercial developments throughout the Gold Coast Transit service area. This position will help to foster the implementation of transit-oriented designs, support the mission of the agency to provide greater mobility for all area residents, and make transit more viable as an alternative transportation mode.

Seven years experience in public transit and/or municipal transportation planning is desired for this position. A working knowledge of Word, Excel and PowerPoint, and experience making public presentations are required. Applicant must have a college degree in a related field; a master's degree is beneficial.
